

Vocabulary	Pronunciation	Meaning	Collocations	Examples
contend (v) [C1] (contender (n), contention (n))	/kən'tend/	Cho rằng / Khẳng định (To assert something as a position in an argument)	1. contend that – Many experts contend that the climate is changing rapidly. 2. contend with – Small businesses must contend with rising operating costs. 3. fiercely contend – The title was fiercely contended by three different athletes.	1. He still contends his innocence despite the evidence. 2. The director contends that the project is on track, but the staff disagrees. 3. Although she contends that the plan will work, many critics remain skeptical of its long-term viability. 4. Critics contend that the policy is flawed, and while the government defends it, citizens are demanding immediate reforms.
outweigh (v) [B2] (weight (n), weighty (adj))	/ˌaʊt'wei/	Lớn hơn / Có nhiều ảnh hưởng hơn (To be greater or more significant than something else)	1. outweigh the benefits – The risks of the surgery might outweigh the benefits. 2. heavily	1. The pros outweigh the cons. 2. Tourism creates jobs, but its environmental impact can outweigh – In this case, the advantages heavily outweigh the minor costs. 3. far outweigh – The long-term gains far outweigh any initial discomfort.	outweigh the profit. 3. Because the benefits outweigh the risks, the committee decided to approve the new drug. 4. Scientists argue that the ecological benefits outweigh the expense, so they are pushing for the project, and the public seems to agree.

proper (adj) [B1] (properly (adv))	/ˈprɒːpər/	Thỏa đáng / Đúng cách (Appropriate, correct, or following established standards)	1. proper procedure – You must follow the proper procedure to file a complaint. 2. lack of proper – The accident was caused by a lack of proper maintenance. 3. proper training – Employees need proper training before using the machinery.	1. Please use the proper tools. 2. You must wear proper attire, or you will not be allowed inside. 3. If you do not provide proper documentation, your application will be rejected by the office. 4. The chef insisted on proper ingredients, yet the supplier failed to deliver them, so the menu had to be changed.

inject (v) [B2] (injection (n))	/ɪnˈdʒekt/	Bơm vào / Đưa vào (To introduce something new or different into a situation to improve it)	1. inject capital – The investors decided to inject more capital into the startup. 2. inject life into – New management helped inject life into the failing company. 3. inject humor – He tried to inject some humor into the serious discussion.	1. We need to inject new ideas. 2. The government will inject funds, and the local economy should recover. 3. Unless we inject more energy into the campaign, we are unlikely to win the election. 4. The festival aims to inject culture into the city, but it requires funding, so the organizers are seeking sponsors.
nevertheless (adv) [B2]	/ˌnevərðəˈles/	Tuy nhiên / Mặc dù vậy (In spite of that; nonetheless)	1. nevertheless, it is – It was raining; nevertheless, it was a great trip. 2. but nevertheless – The task was difficult, but nevertheless rewarding. 3. significant	1. He was tired; nevertheless, he worked. 2. The hike was exhausting, nevertheless, the view from the top was breathtaking. 3. Although the film was very long, it was nevertheless quite nevertheless – The change was small but significant nevertheless.	gripping until the end. 4. The economy is struggling; nevertheless, the tech sector is growing, and many companies are still hiring.

inflict (v) [C1] (infliction (n))	/In 'flikt/	Gây ra (vết thương, sự đau khổ) (To force someone to experience something very unpleasant)	1. inflict damage – The storm inflicted severe damage on the coastal town. 2. inflict pain – It is cruel to intentionally inflict pain on any living creature. 3. inflict a loss – The team's star player inflicted a heavy loss on the opponents.	1. Don't inflict your anger on others. 2. The drought inflicted misery, and many farmers lost their entire crops. 3. Since the war inflicted deep scars, the nation took decades to fully recover. 4. High taxes can inflict hardship on families, but they fund services, so the debate continues endlessly.
habitat (n) [B2] (habitation (n), habitual (adj))	/'hæbitæt/	Môi trường sống (The natural home or environment of an animal, plant,	1. natural habitat – Polar bears are losing their natural habitat due to melting ice.	1. Each animal has a unique habitat. 2. This forest is a rare habitat, and it must be or organism)	2. habitat destruction – Urban sprawl is a leading cause of habitat destruction. 3. protect the habitat – We must work together to protect the habitat of endangered species.	preserved for future generations. 3. If the wetland habitat is destroyed, many migratory birds will have nowhere to nest. 4. Conservationists are studying the habitat, but funds are low, so they are asking for donations to continue.

depletion (n) [C1] (deplete (v))	/dɪˈpliːʃn/	Sự cạn kiệt (The reduction in the number or quantity of something)	1. ozone depletion – Scientists are concerned about the rate of ozone depletion. 2. resource depletion – Overconsumption leads to rapid natural resource depletion. 3. depletion of stocks – The depletion of fish stocks is a global environmental crisis.	1. Soil depletion is a major problem. 2. The depletion of forests is rising, and biodiversity is suffering as a result. 3. Because the depletion of water is critical, the city has introduced strict rationing. 4. Carbon emissions cause ozone depletion, and while some progress is made, more action is needed globally.

erosion (n) [B2] (erode (v))	/ɪˈrouʒn/	Sự xói mòn / Sự suy giảm dần (The gradual destruction or diminution of something)	1. soil erosion – Farmers use cover crops to prevent soil erosion during winter. 2. coastal erosion – Coastal erosion is threatening many seaside communities. 3. erosion of confidence – The scandal led to a slow erosion of public confidence.	1. Wind causes significant soil erosion. 2. Heavy rains led to mountain erosion, and several roads were blocked by mudslides. 3. As the erosion of tradition continues, young people are losing touch with their roots. 4. Inflation causes the erosion of savings, but if you invest wisely, you can protect your wealth.
authenticity (n) [C1] (authentic (adj), authenticate (v))	/ˌɔːθenˈtɪsəti/	Tính xác thực / Sự nguyên bản (The quality of being real, genuine, or true to its origins)	1. doubt the authenticity – Experts began to doubt the authenticity of the painting. 2. lack of authenticity – Critics complained about the lack of	1. We checked the document's authenticity. 2. The signature lacked authenticity, and the bank refused to process the check. 3. Because the authenticity in the film. 3. cultural authenticity – Tourists often look for cultural authenticity in local markets.	restaurant values authenticity, they only use traditional spices from Italy. 4. The historian verified the letter's authenticity, but some details were missing, so further research was required.

inflated (adj) [B2] (inflate (v), inflation (n))	/In'fleɪtɪd/	Bị thổi phồng / Tăng cao quá mức (Exaggerated or higher than is justified or normal)	1. inflated prices – During the holiday season, many stores have inflated prices. 2. inflated ego – His inflated ego makes it very difficult to work with him. 3. inflated sense of – She has an inflated sense of her own importance.	1. He has an inflated opinion of himself. 2. The housing market has inflated values, and young buyers cannot afford homes. 3. Since the claims were based on inflated data, the entire report was dismissed by the board. 4. The company reported inflated earnings, yet the truth surfaced, and the stock price crashed instantly.

strain (n, v) [B2] (strained (adj))	/streɪn/	Sự căng thẳng / Áp lực (A force or influence that stretches, pulls, or puts pressure on something)	1. put a strain on – The sudden increase in population put a strain on public services. 2. mental strain – Working long hours without a break can cause severe mental strain. 3. ease the strain – New technology can help ease the strain of repetitive tasks.	1. The rope broke under the strain. 2. Debt puts a strain on families, and it often leads to frequent arguments. 3. Although he felt the strain of the exam, he remained focused on his goals. 4. Tourism puts a strain on resources, so the city must adapt, or the infrastructure will fail.
adverse (adj) [C1] (adversity (n), adversely (adv))	/ˈædvɜːrs/	Bất lợi / Có hại (Preventing success or development; harmful; unfavorable)	1. adverse effects – The new medication can have some minor adverse effects. 2. adverse weather – The flight was canceled due to adverse weather conditions. 3. adverse reaction – She had an adverse reaction to the	1. The drug has adverse side effects. 2. The harvest was poor, and adverse weather was the primary cause of the failure. 3. If the company faces adverse publicity, its sales will likely drop significantly. 4. The policy had adverse ingredients in the cream.	consequences, but the leaders ignored the warnings, so the economy suffered.

prevail (v) [C1] (prevalent (adj), prevalence (n))	/pri'veil/	Chiếm ưu thế / Phổ biến (To be widespread or current; to prove more powerful than opposing forces)	1. prevail over – Justice will eventually prevail over corruption and greed. 2. truth will prevail – Despite the lies, everyone believes the truth will prevail. 3. prevailing winds – The prevailing winds in this region blow from the west.	1. Common sense must prevail. 2. Darkness fell over the land, but hope prevailed among the survivors. 3. Wherever injustice prevails, people will eventually rise up to demand their rights. 4. Logic should prevail in this debate, yet emotions are high, so a compromise is unlikely.
endure (v) [B2] (endurance (n), enduring (adj))	/In'dʊr/	Kéo dài / Tồn tại lâu dài (To remain in existence; to last)	1. endure the test of time – Great literature must endure the test of time. 2. endure hardship – The pioneers had to endure extreme hardship during	1. Their friendship will endure. 2. The building is old, and it has endured many earthquakes over the centuries. 3. Because her passion for music their journey. 3. enduring legacy – The artist left behind an enduring legacy of beautiful paintings.	was strong, she endured years of difficult training. 4. The culture has endured for centuries, but it faces new threats, so preservation is vital.

--	--	--	---	--