

| Vocabulary                                                 | Pronunciation | Meaning                                                                              | Collocations                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Examples                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
|------------------------------------------------------------|---------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| conversely(adv) C1) | /kən'vɜ:rsli/ | Ngược lại(In a way that is the opposite of something else already mentioned) | 1. stateconversely – He statedconversely that the plan would fail.2. converselyargue – Some analystsconverselyargue that the trend will reverse.3. converselyappear – What seems easy mayconverselyappear difficult to others. | 1. The first half of the book is slow; conversely, the second half is thrilling.2. Some people prefer working in an office, but conversely, others find they are more productive at home.3. While high interest rates discourage borrowing, they conversely encourage people to save more money.4. Since the marketing campaign was successful, sales increased, but conversely, the production costs rose so high that the overall profit remained the same. |

|                                                                                                   |                   |                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| contend (v) [C1](contender (n),contention (n),contentious(adj)) | /kən'tend/ | Cho rằng / Tranhluận rằng (To assertsomething as aposition in anargument) | 1. contend that –Many expertscontend that theclimate ischanging rapidly. 2. contend with– Nurses oftenhave to contendwith difficultworkingconditions. 3. seriouslycontend – Noone canseriouslycontend that theEarth is flat. | 1. Defenseattorneys contendthat the evidenceis unreliable. 2. He contends thedata is accurate,yet manyscientists stilldoubt the results. 3. Although theoppositioncontends that thelaw is unfair, thegovernmentrefuses to changeit. 4. Because thesenator contendsthat taxes are toohigh, he proposeda bill to cut them,and severalcolleagues havealready signed it. |
| liable (adj) [C1](liability (n))                                               | /ˈlaɪəbl/  | Có trách nhiệmpháp lý (Legallyresponsible forsomething)                        | 1. held liable –The companywas held liablefor the toxicwaste spill. 2. strictly liable –Under the newlaw, owners arestrictly liable fortheir pets'actions.                                                                                                   | 1. The shop ownerwas liable for theaccident. 2. The airline wasliable for the lostluggage, and theyhad tocompensate thepassengers. 3. If a                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |

|                                                                   |           |                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
|                                                                   |           |                                                                                                         | 3. liable for damages – The court found the driver liable for all property damages.                                                                                                                                                                                          | manufacturer is held liable for a product defect, they must issue a full recall. 4. Since the contractor was liable for the structural flaws, he had to pay for the repairs, and his reputation suffered a significant blow.                                                                                                                               |
| stifle (v) [C1](stifling (adj), stifled (adj)) | /ˈstaɪfl/ | Kim hãm / Ngăn chặn (To prevent something from happening, being expressed, or continuing) | 1. stifle creativity – Overly strict rules can stifle creativity in the workplace. 2. stifle a yawn – She tried to stifle a yawn during the long, boring meeting. 3. stifle competition – Large monopolies often try to stifle competition from smaller firms. | 1. High taxes can stifle economic growth. 2. He tried to stifle his laughter, but the situation was just too funny. 3. Because fear of failure often stifles innovation, companies should encourage calculated risks. 4. If the government stifles free speech, citizens may lose trust in leadership, and social unrest will likely follow. |

|                                                                          |           |                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| suppress (v) [C1](suppression (n), suppressive (adj)) | /sə'pres/ | Đàn áp / Ngăn chặn (To forcibly put an end to something or prevent the expression of an idea)   | 1. suppress evidence – The lawyer was accused of trying to suppress vital evidence. 2. suppress dissent – The regime used the police force to suppress political dissent. 3. suppress information – It is difficult to suppress information in the digital age. | 1. The military suppressed the local rebellion. 2. He suppressed his anger during the debate, and he remained professional throughout. 3. When a government suppresses the truth, the public often turns to alternative news sources. 4. Because the medication can suppress the immune system, patients must be closely monitored, and any sign of infection should be reported immediately. |
| echo (v) [C1](echo (n), echoing (adj))                | /'ekou/   | Lặp lại / Phản chiếu (To repeat or agree with a sentiment or opinion expressed by someone else) | 1. echo a sentiment – Her comments echo a sentiment shared by many voters. 2. echo the views of – The report echoes                                                                                                                                                    | 1. The speech echoed public concerns about safety. 2. His words echoed in the hall, and the audience fell into a deep silence.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |

|                                                           |                    |                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
|-----------------------------------------------------------|--------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
|                                                           |                    |                                                                                                   | the views of several leading environmentalists. 3. echo throughout – The sound of the bell echoed throughout the valley.                                                                                                                                                                         | 3. Since her views echo the president's policy, she was the natural choice for the role. 4. Because the new findings echo previous studies, researchers are confident in the results, and they plan to publish the paper next month.                                                                                |
| intermediary (n)[C1](intermediate (adj/v)) | /,Intər'mi:di,eri/ | Người trung gian (A person or organization that acts as a link between two parties) | 1. act as an intermediary – The UN was asked to act as an intermediary in the peace talks. 2. financial intermediary – Banks serve as financial intermediaries between savers and borrowers. 3. seek an intermediary – The two companies decided to seek an intermediary to resolve their | 1. Banks serve as financial intermediaries. 2. He acted as an intermediary during the sale, and the deal was closed successfully. 3. If the two parties cannot agree on a price, a neutral intermediary will be hired. 4. Since the company uses an intermediary for overseas shipping, the costs are |

|                                                                          |                         |                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
|                                                                          |                         |                                                                                           | dispute.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | slightly higher, but the entire process is much more efficient.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| bear responsibility (v phr) [C1] (bear (v), responsibility (n))   | /ber rɪˌspɔːnsəˈbɪləti/ | Chịu trách nhiệm(To accept or be held accountable for a duty, burden, or outcome) | 1. bear full responsibility – The manager chose to bear full responsibility for the team's error.2. bear primary responsibility – Local authorities bear primary responsibility for road maintenance.3. bear the responsibility for – Parents must bear the responsibility for their children's education. | 1. Parents bear responsibility for their children.2. He must bear responsibility for the failure, yet he continues to blame his staff.3. Although the CEO does not manage daily tasks, he must bear responsibility for the firm's ethics.4. Because every citizen should bear responsibility for the environment, recycling is encouraged, and new laws are being drafted to reduce plastic waste. |
| preserve (v) [B2] (preservation (n), preservative (n), preserved) | /prɪˈzɜːrv/             | Bảo tồn / Duy trì(To keep something in its original state or in good              | 1. preserve peace – Diplomatic efforts are essential to preserve peace                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | 1. We must preserve our ancient monuments.2. The museum                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |

|                              |             |                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
|------------------------------|-------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| (adj))                       |             | condition)                                                                                             | in the region. 2. preserve traditions – The festival helps the local community preserve its ancient traditions. 3. preserve wildlife – New laws were passed to preserve wildlife in the national parks.                          | preserves history, and it educates the public about our ancestors. 3. If we do not preserve our forests, the effects of climate change will accelerate. 4. Because the community wants to preserve its heritage, they funded the restoration, and the historic building was reopened to the public last week. |
| discourse (n)[C1] | /ˈdɪskɔːrs/ | Diễn ngôn / Đàm luận (Written or spoken communication or debate on a particular subject) | 1. public discourse – Social media has fundamentally changed the nature of public discourse. 2. political discourse – The election cycle often leads to heated political discourse. 3. academic discourse – The journal promotes | 1. Civil discourse is vital for a healthy democracy. 2. The professor led the discourse, and students asked many insightful questions. 3. While academic discourse is often complex, it helps clarify difficult philosophical concepts.                                                                       |

|                                                                   |                |                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
|                                                                   |                |                                                                                                                    | high-level academic discourse on economics.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | 4. Because the political discourse has become polarized, many voters feel alienated, and they are now seeking more moderate candidates.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| moderation (n)[C1] (moderate (adj/v/n), moderator (n)) | /ˌmɒːdə'reɪʃn/ | Sự điều tiết /Kiểm duyệt(The process of monitoring and controlling content to ensure it follows rules) | 1. content moderation – Social media platforms invest heavily in content moderation.2. practice moderation – Doctors advise patients to practice moderation in their diet.3. in moderation – It is okay to eat sweets as long as you enjoy them in moderation. | 1. Content moderation is a difficult and thankless task.2. He eats everything in moderation, and he manages to stay very healthy.3. Although moderation is necessary for safety, it should not lead to unfair censorship.4. Since the platform implemented stricter moderation, the number of reports has decreased, and the overall user experience has improved significantly. |

|                                                                              |                    |                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| empower (v)[B2/C1](empowerment (n), empowered (adj)) | /ɪmˈpaʊər/  | Trao quyền(To give someone the authority or power to do something) | 1. empower individuals – Technology can empower individuals to start their own businesses.2. empower women – The program aims to empower women in developing nations.3. empower through education – We seek to empower youth through quality education. | 1. Education empowers the youth of our nation.2. The new law empowers women, and it protects their rights in the workplace.3. When technology empowers local farmers, their productivity and income often increase.4. Because the mentor wanted to empower his students, he gave them autonomy over their projects, and they achieved remarkable results. |
| mitigate (v) [C1](mitigation (n), mitigating (adj))       | /ˈmɪtɪgeɪt/ | Giảm thiểu(To make something less severe, serious, or painful)     | 1. mitigate risks – Businesses must take steps to mitigate financial risks.2. mitigate the effects – New technology can help mitigate the                                                                                                                         | 1. New laws help mitigate air pollution.2. Insurance can mitigate financial loss, but it cannot prevent accidents from happening.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |

|                                                                                     |               |                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
|                                                                                     |               |                                                                                               | effects of global warming. 3. mitigate damage – Quick action by the fire department helped mitigate the damage.                                                                                                                                                | 3. Although the new measures mitigate the impact of the storm, some damage is inevitable. 4. Since the company failed to mitigate the security risk, hackers stole sensitive data, and the CEO was eventually forced to resign.                                                       |
| endanger (v)[B2] (danger (n), dangerous (adj), endangered (adj)) | /In'deɪndʒər/ | Gây nguy hiểm (To put someone or something at risk or in a dangerous situation) | 1. endanger lives – Reckless driving can endanger the lives of many people. 2. endanger the future – Ignoring climate change will endanger the future of our planet. 3. endanger species – Habitat loss continues to endanger many rare animal species. | 1. Pollution endangers the entire environment. 2. The fire endangered many homes, and firefighters worked all night to extinguish it. 3. If you drive while you are tired, you endanger everyone on the road. 4. Because the rising sea levels endanger coastal cities, |

|                                                                                 |                    |                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
|                                                                                 |                    |                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | governments are building sea walls, and scientists are studying new defense mechanisms.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| non-coercive(adj) [C2](coerce (v), coercion (n), coercive (adj)) | /,nɑːn kɔʊ'ʒ:rsɪv/ | Không cưỡng bức(Not using force or threats to make someone do something) | 1. non-coercive approach – The manager prefers a non-coercive approach to leadership.2. non-coercive measures – The government is considering non-coercive measures to encourage vaccination.3. non-coercive environment – Schools should strive to create a non-coercive environment for students. | 1. They prefer a non-coercive approach to education.2. The agreement was non-coercive, and both sides signed it without any pressure.3. While a non-coercive environment fosters trust, some situations require very strict rules.4. Because the therapist uses a non-coercive method, patients feel safe to share their thoughts, and their progress is often more sustainable. |